What are the distributor value considerations?

Distributors should consider the impact on product value of offering other products alongside this one, especially those with proportionally greater remuneration. For example, an ancillary product, elements of which may duplicate existing cover or premium finance charged at an elevated rate of APR. Our expectation is that additional commission, fees or charges added as part of the distribution processes must be proportionate to the service provided, in line with those charged elsewhere and not affect the overall value offered by the product.
